Small Loans Bill Is Passed By The House

Measure Would Put Stop On
'Salary Buying'

Pay Hike Plan
Is Presented

Offered by Rep.
Murray For Amendment

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The small loans bill, one of the most controverted measures of the 60th General Assembly so far, passed the House today with only 22 votes mustered against it. The "Ayes" totaled 115.

Only three members assailed it today, in contrast with the barrage of condemnation when its opponents sought to amend the bill before it was ordered perfected two weeks ago.

The measure, sponsored by Speaker J. G. Christy (D), Festus, and 77 other members, is designed to outlaw "salary buyers." It carried an additional provision to raise the interest rate on loans under $100 to 3 per cent per month. The present rate on all loans up to $300 is 2 1/2 per cent.

Opponents have centered their fire on the interest hike, which Rep. Maurice Schechter (D), St. Louis, said was just an added imposition on the "working man." Christy defended the provision as necessary to interest licensed small loan companies in amounts under $100.

The House also passed, 131 to 0, a bill to repeal the "Anti-Discriminatory" liquor law, a measure voted by the 1937 Legislature to enable Missouri to bar liquor products of states which discriminated against Missouri brewers and distillers. Majority Leader Roy Hamlin (D), Hannibal, sponsored the repealer.

A constitutional amendment which would raise salaries of legislators—proposed in most of the recent general assemblies and regularly voted down by the people—was offered today by Rep. R. J. Murray (R), Morgan county.

The proposal, to be voted on in November, 1940, would fix the pay at $5 a day for the first 120 days of each session, except the decennial revision sessions, when it would run for 150 days, and would fix compensation at $3 a day after the 55 period ended.

At present the lawmakers receive $5 for 70 days of a regular session and 120 days of a revision session, with the figure dropping to $1 thereafter.

A constitutional amendment passed by the 1937 legislature but rejected overwhelmingly in the 1938 general election, followed Murray's proposal except the base pay was $10 a day at the start of the sessions.

Rep. Joseph L. Ivanhoe (D), St. Louis, introduced a bill today to cut one year to three months the residence requirement for filing of a divorce suit in Missouri.

The House passed four slum-clearance bills designed to permit state participation in federal housing programs. All four bills were adopted as emergency measures which means they will become law as soon as they are passed by the Senate and approved by the governor.

Two other bills were passed by the House and sent to the Senate. They would make it possible for creditors to garnish the salaries of state employees. Both were introduced by Rep. H. P. Lauf (D), Cole county.

Rep. Fred Spearman (R), Miller county and 11 others introduced a bill to bring state employees under civil service. The measure is patterned after the federal civil service law.

Rep. Arthur Kincaid (D), Clay county, sent in a bill to authorize co-operative associations to enter into price fixing contracts with other co-operatives, corporations or persons, setting the price at which products handled by the co-operatives may be sold.

Temperatures May Take Sharp Drop Tonight

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The moderate cold snap held its ground in Missouri today and temperatures may fall to near zero tonight.

Snow flurries were forecast for the northwest portion of the state. Precipitation 1.33 inches at New Madrid and .63 at Cape Girardeau was reported this morning.

Doubt New Justice

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Belief that President Roosevelt would delay appointment of a new Supreme court justice until after his Caribbean cruise, was expressed today by senators who said they had inquired at the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt will leave tomorrow night to rest and to review fleet maneuvers. He will be gone about two weeks.

Had Reason To Be
Jittery At Wedding

PONCA CITY, Okla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Nobody could blame Dr. W. W. Sanger if he was jittery at his wedding.

To begin with, his dress suit was burned by an open fire and he had to buy a new one.

En route to the wedding, he crashed into a tree and wrecked his car.

Just before the ceremony, he lost his gloves and had to borrow some from an usher. He also lost his top hat.

As the doctor drove away with his bride he discovered prankster friends had greased the car's heater with garlic and the smell of garlic makes him sick.

Find Body of Boy Drowned

Skeleton of
J. L. Coffman
Near Stream

A skeleton with a pair of green bathing trunks and belt, found Monday shortly after noon on the farm of John Scarbrough in the extreme northwest corner of Pettis county, was identified as that of J. C. Coffman, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Coffman, 610 West Clay street, Warrensburg, who drowned in the Post Oak creek north of Warrensburg on May 19, 1938.

The boy was carried away in the swollen waters of the creek while he, with companions, were in swimming. The swift current had pulled him away from the group of boys with whom he was playing and he was unable to reach shore again.

A search for the boy extended from the point up and down the creek for several weeks but finally was given up.

It was evident the body had been washed up into the field during the high waters and at the time was probably covered with brushwood and debris making it difficult for the searchers to find it. In the meantime the debris had been washed away and it was located nearly 100 feet from the creek channel.

The skeleton was discovered near a roadway by Lee Moorman, who had been driving cattle up and down to pasture for some time. He said his attention was attracted by dogs and when he investigated he found the skeleton and trunks. He immediately notified Mayor H. F. Duensing of Concordia, who in turn notified Prosecuting Attorney Richard Musser at Warrensburg.

Identification was made by the boy's father and an uncle, Curtis Holloway who accompanied Sheriff Lee Williams and Coroner T. J. Bradley of Johnson county to the scene.

The remains were taken to Warrensburg Tuesday afternoon. Memorial services for the boy were conducted about a month after he had drowned and hope of ever finding the body was abandoned.

The boy was a nephew of Frank Coffman of 1411 South Ohio ave., this city.

France Would Strengthen Her Fortified Bases

By ROY PORTER
PARIS, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Strong forces of gunboats and seaplanes backed by coastal artillery batteries and fortified bases were recommended to parliament today to strengthen the defenses of French Indo-China against the possibility of either Japanese or Siamese attacks.

The proposals, made by Deputy Edouard Bousquet, vice chairman of the naval affairs committee, who spent three months recently inspecting Indo-Chinese defenses, are based on a series of international complications growing out of the Japanese invasion of China together with the recent Japanese occupation of Chinese Hainan Island, east of Indo-China.

He said he considered seriously the possibility of Japanese and Siamese action against Indo-China which he declared was "isolated and with only a little chance of getting help from the mother country." (Siam in the past few months has indicated her friendliness toward Japan.)

His recommendations included: 1—Concentration of a large fleet of cruising seaplanes and large increases in naval forces, including an unspecified number of submarines. These latter, he said, "are indispensable" for Indo-Chinese protection.

2—Immediate strengthening of

Over The Issue

House Indulges
In It Relative
To Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The House overwhelmingly endorsed the bulk of President Roosevelt's emergency defense program today including a $300,000,000 expansion of the army air corps.

Passage of the $552,000,000 military expansion bill followed a statement by Majority Leader Rayburn that conditions in Europe were "more volcanic than in 1914." The measure now goes to the Senate.

In addition to 3,032 new planes for the air corps, the measure would authorize re-enforcement of the Panama Canal's defenses and a broadened program to train private industry in munitions production.

Beat Opposition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The house beat down a Republican attempt today to limit the proposed expansion of the army air corps to 1,000 planes a year, removing the principal obstacle to immediate approval of the bulk of President Roosevelt's $552,000,000 defense program.

By a standing vote announced as 169 to 127, the house rejected the limitation amendment offered by Rep. Andrews (R-Ill.).

The action came after House Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Tex.) warned his colleagues that conditions in Europe are "more volcanic than in 1914."

In preceding arguments, the house heard sales of war planes to friendly powers abroad defended on the ground that "Americans are safe only so long as England and France stand."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The house heard of sales of war planes to foreign nations defended today on the ground "Americans are safe only so long as England and France stand."

Cracking debate over foreign policy involved in President Roosevelt's $552,000,000 defense program shattered the quiet which marked the first day's discussion of legislation to authorize the army's share of the program.

Rep. Gifford (R-Mass.) launched the attack on the airplane sales abroad with the declaration the inference was "dreadfully plain" that the United States was going into an alliance "with somebody."

"Are we building these planes so England and France can get them?" Gifford asked, referring to the proposed construction of 3,032 new planes for the army air corps. "They would be mighty useful to our friends?"

The attack brought further attention to new French contracts for 415 war planes, which increased to more than 1,200 the number of military aircraft ordered in this country by France and Great Britain in eight months.

The house naval committee, meanwhile, by a vote of 14 to 5 rejected a move to eliminate the Pacific island of Guam from the list of territories.

existing fortifications at the strategic ports of Tourane and Haiphong, 150 miles across the gulf of Tonkin from Hainan Island, and other important defense points.

Want Powerful Plane Force
"It is a question of reinforcing by all possible means the coastal defenses—batteries of anti-aircraft guns, mine blockades and fortified garrisons," Bousquet said.

"We must conclude that the country must have a powerful plane force and a naval defense which will allow submarines to act in the Pacific and surface craft to sweep the Gulf of Siam."

The number of planes and gunboats actually assigned to Indo-China remained a closely guarded national defense secret. It was known, however, that military technicians have completed a series of plans which were reported to have been started, at least. They have not been carried far, it was believed, because of France's more urgent attention to her continental defenses and the bolstering of her North African frontiers.

Official sources said there had been "no change" in the situation in the Paracel Islands, south of Hainan, occupied last July by a small group of French customs officers and policemen to forestall possible Japanese occupation.

Admit Public To Pope's Tomb

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Roman public was admitted today to visit the tomb of Pope Pius XI beneath St. Peter's.

In groups of 20 they descended the winding stairs to the chill grotto into which the triple coffin bearing the body of the pontiff was lowered yesterday with elaborate ceremony attended only by high officials of church and state and others of prominence.

Cardinals continued to arrive in Rome for the conclave which will name the new Pope. Perhaps because of his early arrival in Rome, the name of Cardinal Schuster of Milan particularly was on Roman tongues—although other Italian cardinals likewise were mentioned frequently.

Victim of A Hit and Run Driver

CARTHAGE, Mo., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Wendell Owen, 21, Carthage, died in a hospital this morning, the apparent victim of a hit-run motor car driver whose machine dragged him along highway 71.

The youth was found on the highway four miles south of here late last night. Authorities were seeking the man with whom Owen last was seen some two hours before his injury.

Owen worked for his uncle, City Councilman J. M. Owen, proprietor of the Owen Iron Metal Company. The youth is survived by his widow and a baby daughter who were visiting relatives in Kansas City at the time of the accident.

Eight Years For Slaying Woman

BOLIVAR, Mo., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Ernest "Blackie" Davenport, 40, of Clinton, must serve eight years in the state penitentiary for the slaying of his housekeeper, Glee McGinnis, 25, in October, 1936, a circuit court jury here decided today.

It was Davenport's second trial. In the first, he was sentenced to life imprisonment, but the sentence was reversed by the state supreme court.

Chief witness against Davenport was his seven-year-old daughter, who testified that she saw her father "stomp" the housekeeper.

Intensify Siege Against Madrid

PERPIGNAN, France, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco was intensified the siege of Madrid with his heavy artillery shelling the Spanish government capital daily.

Insurgent guns bombarded the central quarters of the city last night, government dispatches said. Premier Juan Negrin installed his cabinet in Madrid.

Casualties from the shelling Sunday and Monday were estimated at 28 dead and 106 wounded. The effects of Tuesday night's bombardment were not reported immediately.

The battle fronts, which have been quiet since the insurgent conquest of Catalonia and the government's transfer to the central zone, remained static.

Premier Negrin turned his attention to improving his political position, which has been weakened by the desire of moderate elements to make peace with Franco and unrest among extremists whose action has been curtailed under the existing state of war.

A government statement said despite the absence of labor representatives Gonzales Pena of U. G. T. and Segundo Blanco Gonzalez of C. N. T. from recent cabinet meetings, all the ministers were in accord in supporting Negrin's policies.

Farmer Kills A Large Grey Eagle

Wilson Ross, who resides near Big Bend Acres, in the Edwards, Mo., neighborhood, killed a large grey eagle last Saturday.

The bird was killed near "Hog Thief Bluff" on the Lake of the Ozarks, so named because many years ago there were some hogs stolen from there.

The eagle was apparently watching a crippled duck and came too near. One shot from a .22 calibre rifle brought him down.

The eagles are becoming quite numerous in that community, it is reported. There is no bounty on them.

Corn Husking Contest
Be Near Davenport

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Site of the 1940 National Corn Husking contest will be in the vicinity of Davenport, Iowa. Wallace's Farmer and Iowa Homestead, one of the sponsors, announced today.

The national contest returns to Iowa next year for the third time since it was inaugurated in 1924 by Secretary Henry A. Wallace on a farm near Des Moines. The 1939 contest will be held near Lawrence, Kas.

Chinese Graduate Of M. U. Dies

HONGKONG, Feb. 15 (AP)—Hin Wong, Dean of China's American-trained newspapermen, died here today.

Wong was the first Chinese graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism, from which he returned to China in 1911 to begin active newspaper work. He was born in Honolulu about 50 years ago. His father is believed to be living in New York.

Wong represented the Chinese press at the Washington disarmament conference of 1921-22. For several years, until 1934, he was head of the Journalism School of Yenching University, Peiping.

Lieutenant Governor on Fair Commission

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark today appointed Lieut. Gov. Frank G. Harris to the World Fair Commission for Missouri to succeed Tom K. Smith, St. Louis banker, who resigned recently. The commission has charge of Missouri's participation in both the New York and California expositions.

Flames Raze Homestead Of Short Family

Spacious Home Is Destroyed In Fire
Tuesday Afternoon

The picturesque and spacious old homestead for many years of the late Judge Ulysses Short, was practically destroyed by fire shortly after 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The home which at one time was valued at many thousands of dollars, was badly damaged by the fire and water and the losses are estimated at between $2,500 and $3,000, which are covered by insurance.

The home now owned and occupied by R. R. Reine, and family, who operates a dairy was only partly occupied. Mr. Reine and family occupying only a few rooms on the first floor had an improvised coal heater in a southwest room where the fire is believed to have started.

The fire was discovered by Harry Hall who with other employees on the farm and Mr. Reine were grinding feed in the farm lot a short distance away from the house.

Mr. Hall happened to look toward the home and saw smoke rolling out from under the eaves of the house and called to others in the lot. They rushed to the residence and endeavored to fight the fire while a call was made for the fire departments.

Pumpers Into Action
The home is about ten feet inside of the city limits and when the companies arrived Chief John J. Lueck immediately ordered the pumpers into action. The East Sedalia truck had been set near the large well and was already pumping water when the West Sedalia company arrived.

One line of hose was used off the East Sedalia truck, and the West Sedalia truck was dispatched to a large pond in a field south-east of the home and several hundred feet of hose were laid from it to the house. The firemen fought hard to bring the fire under control and it was not until after the large roof of the dwelling had crashed in were the firemen able to battle the blaze in an efficient manner.

The fire attracted hundreds of Sedalians from the beginning of the fire and up until as late as 9 o'clock at night. It was nearly ten o'clock before the firemen had the blaze extinguished and returned to the fire stations.

Much credit is due the fire fighters for their work in saving the old structure in which many prominent Sedalians had visited in the passing years.

It was built about 1904 or 1905 by Judge Short and after he left Sedalia for Texas to reside, it was occupied by his son the late Franklin Short and family, Mrs. Short and their two daughters, Miss Ruth Short now Mrs. Robert G. Henderson and Miss Catherine Short now Mrs. Catherine Buford.

Mrs. Short and her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson resided on the farm and in the old residence until about five years ago when they came to Sedalia and are now residing at 1014 South Massachusetts avenue.

During the first four hours of pumping when both trucks were in service more than 108,000 gallons of water were poured into the house and on the fire. About 8 o'clock the East Sedalia company was sent back to the fire station and the West Sedalia truck continued pumping for nearly two more hours and in which time more than 36,000 gallons of water were used, making a total of nearly 144,000 gallons of water used in battling the blaze.

The home contained more than fourteen large rooms and a large attic all of which was floored in heavy oak flooring.

Argentina To Buy Less In United States

Business May Go To Britain
And Germany

Announcement
At Buenos Aires

Consider Great Britain As The Best Customer

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Argentina ordered a sharp reduction in purchases from the United States today, and the implication was felt that Germany and Great Britain would get more of the business.

The announcement in morning newspapers by Pedro Groppo, minister of finance, appeared to have developed between the two richest American nations an open breach over trade—the base upon which United States Secretary of State Hull built the American good neighbor policy.

Groppo declared United States imports must be reduced to "the level of three or four years ago" because the imports far overbalanced United States purchases of Argentine goods.

The minister indicated Argentina could not accept a most-favored nation treaty offered by the United States but wanted a bi-lateral agreement to strike a trade balance—a treaty similar to that which Argentina already has with a number of European countries.

A reduction of imports to previous levels would mean a cut of 40 per cent from 1938 figures or about $1,000,000.

Groppo's announcement was published as a half-page advertisement in morning newspapers. It insisted the reduction—to be effected by withholding import permits—was not discrimination on behalf of European countries but a necessity.

"Argentina never brought up the question of systems," the finance minister declared. "It has been forced to adapt its economy to new demands of world commerce, always keeping in mind that in its condition of a debtor nation it must obtain a favorable balance of trade to pay the foreign debt."

Britain Best Customer

Britain, biggest investor in Argentina and her best customer, has been pressing Argentina to accept more British goods to maintain debt interest payments.

Germany, dynamic third customer-seller, has been offering to take vast quantities of wheat and beef in barter for German-manufactured products.

Many United States importers here, with the announcement of definite plans by the government, despaired of maintaining their position on the Argentine market in the face of rapidly increasing German business and Britain's long-established supremacy.

Furthermore, political observers noted that the trade issue again brought to the forefront differences between the two countries which were apparent in debate over the Pan-American congress declaration of continental solidarity at Lima.

(The Argentine delegation at Lima opposed a United States sponsored declaration to resist political or military aggression from outside the Americas. A compromise was effected declaring the Americas' solidarity but without sharply pointed reference to foreign countries.)

Governor Stresses High Ideals of University

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 15 (AP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark linked his campaign for "law and order" with praise for the University of Missouri in a speech on the 100th anniversary of the school's founding last night.

"Democracy has survived and grown stronger in our nation chiefly because of the facilities for mass education," he told a Founders' Day banquet audience presided over by John H. Lathrop, Kansas City, vice-president of the board of curators and grandson of John H. Lathrop, first president of the university.

"Good government rests upon the foundation of an enlightened and informed electorate," the governor said. "It would be futile for any elective official or any constituted authority x x x to attempt to remedy evil conditions affecting the welfare of the people without the backing of the people themselves."

"We do have in Missouri a citizenry which not only refuses to tolerate persistent flouting of law and order, but which demands of its public officials that

Proposes Payment On Pensions

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 15.—Rep. Buford Skaggs (R) Howell County, asked the legislature today to pay the state's share of delayed February old age pensions and aid to dependent children, both held up by the absence of federal funds.

Skaggs introduced a resolution which would authorize immediate payment of one half the February pensions out of state funds. The government's share would be paid when—and if—it is received. No final action was taken on the resolution.

Washington withheld support from Missouri's pension plan pending alteration of the state's social security laws to conform with federal regulations. Amendments to correct the differences are pending in the senate.

Lethal 'Tank's' Ninth Victim

J. F. Williamson
Put To Death In Gas Chamber

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The man responsible for execution by gas in Missouri—Sen. Paul C. Jones (D), Kennett—watched intently early today as the state penitentiary's "tank" took its ninth victim, John F. Williamson, 58-year-old Ste. Genevieve county woodsman.

Then he said: "There is no question but that the new way is a vast improvement over the old system of public hangings as I saw them in South Missouri."

"I didn't think it was possible for a man to go to his death so composed."

Williamson, convicted of murdering George Williams, a farmer, on August 11, 1935, was declared dead five minutes after he entered the gas chamber at 12:12 a. m.

When first convicted, Williamson was sentenced to hang. Appeals delayed his execution twice but in December the Supreme court upheld the death sentence.

In the meantime, the old public hanging law had gone into the discard by an act of the 1937 legislature. The new law decreed death by gas within the confines of the state prison in cases of capital punishment. The gas provision was urged by Senator Jones.

Williamson's was the first gas execution Senator Jones had witnessed. Several other legislators also saw a "tank" execution for the first time. Among them was Rep. Charles T. Wolf, (R), Ste. Genevieve. Declared Wolf: "I am convinced the gas chamber is the only method of execution that should be used."

Rep. Arthur S. McDaniel, (D), Dunklin county, said: "It's a lot better. We've gotten rid of the old Roman holiday executions which were a disgrace."

D. C. Jackling To Visit Sedalia

Daniel C. Jackling, multi-millionaire copper king of San Francisco, Calif., a former Sedalian and Pettis countian, will spend Monday in Sedalia, probably visiting old friends here, and visiting the neighborhood north of Sedalia where he formerly lived.

Mr. Jackling and his party will arrive in the city, on a special car, over the Missouri Pacific, at 4:25 o'clock Monday morning, and remain until 5:03 in the afternoon.

Great Britain For Heavier Armaments

Reveals Plan To Double Outlay
For Defense

To Step Up Power
On Borrowing

Recognition
To Franco Still Is Considered

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The British government today announced it needs to borrow £800,000,000 ($4,000,000,000) to help finance the vast five-year rearmament program on which Britain will have spent £1,173,000,000 ($5,865,000,000) by the end of the 1939-40 fiscal year.

Extent of British arms expenditures in the first three years of the plan—launched in 1937—was revealed by Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, who told the house of commons the nation's borrowing powder of $400,000,000 ($2,000,000,000) must be doubled to aid in meeting armament costs.

Outlines Finance Needs
Attention turned to armament expenses as officials disclosed Italy was sending troop reinforcements to Libya at a time when Britain is concerned over her Mediterranean sea routes.

Prime Minister Chamberlain told commons recognition of the insurgent regime in Spain, a key nation in the Mediterranean, was "still under consideration," although reliable sources said his cabinet already had agreed in principle to such a step.

Outlining Britain's financial needs for defense, Sir John Simon said the total 1939-40 defense expenditure would be "in the neighborhood of $80,000,000 sterling ($2,900,000,000)."

He said the government was "confident the people of this country will be ready to bear the burden involved and will share in the determination of his majesty's government to ensure the adequacy of our defense preparations."

The chancellor's 1939-40 defense estimates included $232,000,000 ($2,615,000,000) for army, navy and airforce and $57,000,000 ($

A Radical Amendment by Senator Capper

The term radicalism is abused pretty badly today. We think of it in connection with left-wing radicalism only. The basic meaning of the word applies to anything that "goes to the root" of a question or institution. Thus a monarchist revolution in the United States would be literally as "radical" as a Communist one.

By that reversion to original meanings, the constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas comes pretty close to qualifying.

Senator Capper is advocating an amendment to the Constitution which would radically change the method of apportioning representatives in Congress. The Constitution directs that representatives shall be apportioned among the states "according to their respective numbers" as determined by adding to "the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons."

Today slavery having been abolished, and there being, technically at least, no longer any "bound servants," representation is based on the whole population, excluding Indians not taxed.

Capper's amendment would exclude aliens from the count. He believes there are more than 6,000,000 of them, with nearly 1,500,000 non-citizens in New York state alone.

In other words, Capper believes that 33 members of the House of Representatives are representing aliens, largely in the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts and California.

Many states, Capper points out, do not count aliens in apportioning membership in their own legislatures, yet they profit by a larger representation in Congress because the Constitution counts "the whole number of free persons," aliens and citizens alike, in apportioning representation in Congress.

This is really a radical proposal, for it would change the whole basis on which the people are counted on choosing their representatives in the national government. In practice, the effect of any such amendment is shown by Capper's estimate that New York would have four fewer representatives in Congress if aliens were not counted as part of its population in figuring the number of congressmen to which the state is entitled.

Capper's proposal is what might properly be called a "radical amendment from the conservative wing." With many others, Capper is applying the microscope to the rights of residents who have not assumed the duties of citizenship.

Hasty action on any such proposal would be unwise, but it will undoubtedly be given full consideration. In any event, it is interesting to see interest in radical changes in the Constitution manifested by people of Senator Capper's political complexion. It shows the left wing is to have no monopoly in proposals to change our fundamental law.

The president seems to be having some trouble in keeping his appointments.

While there may be many things wrong with the Munich pact it must be remembered that nobody is in the trenches as a result of it.

Governors of Minnesota, Michigan, and Wisconsin will participate in the American Bowling Congress—and you have to give them credit. They're trying to learn how to handle strikes.

Animal Wisdom

Domestic animals seldom suffer or die of heart disease.

Dr. H. H. Dukes, professor of veterinary physiology at Cornell University, has found that "because they live more naturally than humans," such disorders are far more rare among animals than among men.

The animal heart, Dr. Dukes notes, "is not subjected to the unnatural stresses and strains that man has built up for himself through civilization."

It looks as though Dr. Dukes has got something there. Most dogs, for example, can lie down, relax completely, and even sleep at the smallest opportunity. They do it, too. But there is something about modern life that demands that men keep at a piano-wire tension all the time, whether they are doing anything or not.

As we learn to conquer the diseases that conquered our grandfathers, we create new tensions, strains, worries, complications, that will in turn kill us. And if there is any sense to that, clams grow on jacaranda trees.

Pittsburgh, Innkeeper

The city of Pittsburgh is going into the hotel business.

A 22-story hotel there which owed the city $500,000 in back taxes is to be taken over and managed by the city.

It is only the second time that the city has applied its Sequestration Act, passed in 1935, by which it can take over, manage and operate, delinquent properties, diverting to the city all income above operating expenses until back taxes are paid.

Thus it is that government as the ultimate landlord of all of us shows that his patience may be exhausted just like the patience of any other landlord. The rights of the people of the city in general to receive tax payments have here apparently been placed ahead of even those of bondholders and owners. It is an interesting dabble at the socialist conception that ultimate ownership of everything is in the people.

The people's claims are usually not so forcibly asserted, but they are there, underlying all ownership. Pittsburgh, in turning innkeeper, is starting something that will bear watching.

So They Say

It was so good I would be willing to see another.—Jacob Nabel, 103, on seeing his first movie.

Europe is in the biggest upheaval since the flood.—Jan Masaryk, son of the "father" of Czechoslovakia.

Every lawyer solicits business and makes a living at it.—Joseph Rubinstein, Cleveland attorney facing "ambulance-chasing" charges.

I think modern music is funny. It always sounds as if it did not take the composer long to make up.—Peter Buxton, small boy whose observations on music were so acute that a San Francisco newspaper started to print them.

I believe, expressing a personal opinion, that extreme publicity is one of the great cures, or preventions rather, for abuses in a business.—Frederick Ecker, chairman of the board of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., before the Monopoly Investigating Committee.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

The caboose of a train of the Sedalia, Warsaw and Southwestern railway caught fire yesterday afternoon when it jumped the tracks after striking a broken rail two miles north of Mora. Rear brakeman George Stoner, who had just released the caboose brake, was slightly injured when he was knocked down as the car left the tracks and dragged ten car-lengths before he could drop off into a snowdrift.

Owing to certain repairs that are necessary at the First M. E. church South, the county court has granted Rev. Hill and his congregation permission to hold services in the court house until the repairs are completed.

Mrs. Charles Van Antwerp was leader of the discussion "Which should rank the highest, the romantic, the naturalistic or the realistic schools of fiction?" following the oral programme at the Nautilus club meeting this afternoon.

Col. John Bonker and other employees of the Katy yard office are wearing mourning because of the death of "Brownie," the office dog.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — Roosevelt was not merely aiming at Senator Nye when he talked about the unfortunate newspaper story on the Army's secret airplane detector. He was also aiming at two other Senators and possibly at the Secretary of War himself, at least one of whom apparently was involved in the leak regarding the Army's most precious of all war secrets.

The airplane detector is an invention which no other country has developed. It detects an approaching air raid miles away and records the number of miles it is distant. The secret is so carefully preserved that the detectors are not kept in one Army post, but shifted secretly from fort to fort for fear of espionage. The only exhibition of the airplane detector to other than Army officers took place at Mitchell Field, N. Y., some time ago, when the Secretary of War, Chief of Staff Malin Craig, and two members of the Senate Military Affairs Committee saw a demonstration.

In order to stage the demonstration, it was necessary to clear the air of all airplanes around Mitchell Field so that the incoming air raiders could be detected. Instructions were sent to air lines to this effect, and this was picked up by The New York Times, which sent a reporter to Mitchell Field.

The reporter interviewed all people leaving the field, finally got a clue that an airplane detector was being tried out. However, he got all the details surrounding the experiment wrong, so that the story he finally published did not greatly upset the Army.

This story, which was very brief, attracted no attention in the United States, was overlooked by other American newspapers.

But not by the British. They picked up the Times item and featured it in headlines. To the British, an air raid detector might mean salvation for London in time of war.

Meanwhile one of the Senators who visited Mitchell Field, or possibly the Secretary of War himself, apparently leaked definite word of the secret instrument to Senator Nye. Army officers and the White House still would like to know who did the leaking.

Japanese Ambassador
Hiroshi Saito is no longer Japan's Ambassador to the United States, having been replaced by Kenseki Horinouchi. But Saito, who has spent more of his adult life in the United States than in Japan, continues to live a secluded life in Washington.

He seldom leaves his hotel. What draws him out more than anything else is his fondness for Chinese food. He frequents a Chinese restaurant near the Union Station.

NOTE—Few Japanese Ambassadors remain here long. If they report the truth about American policy toward Japan and urge caution on their government, they are almost sure to be ousted by the Tokyo war lords. Saito was one of the best Ambassadors Japan has sent here in years, but eventually the generals decided he was pro-American.

Justice Frankfurter

Autograph hunters take note: You have a fellow addict on the Supreme Court.

In the office of Justice Felix Frankfurter is a large collection of photographs of the late Chief Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, all inscribed with personal notes to Frankfurter. The collection dates from the time Holmes graduated from college, is a pictorial chronology of his life.

Frankfurter was one of Holmes' closest friends, was at his bedside when he died.

RAISING her face, she gazed over the flowers into a mirror, lost herself for a moment in a desperately real dream of what it would be like to be really beautiful. Suddenly, the old, unhappy Susie was gone, and in her place was a new girl, sweetly pretty, the kind of a girl Susie wanted to be.

But the dream lasted only for a moment. It was gone as suddenly as it had come and aloud Susie heard herself saying:

"Oh, I'd give my hope of heaven, I'd give all the rest of my life to be really like that, to be pretty, oh just for one year, to have Dick, just once." Then she cried in utter abandon.

At last she wearily made a cup of tea on the gas plate behind a screen. With it she ate a sugary pecan roll. Too many waffles, too many pecan rolls, too few vegetables and green things, had long been responsible for Susie's girth and the pastiness of her skin. Slowly nibbling the roll, taking little sips of tea, she regarded Outside, the soft spring dusk melted into mysterious night and Susie's mind turned back to the day when Dick, a freshman, had

Mexican Oil
It looks as if settlement of the long drawn out Mexican oil controversy were just around the corner. If so, an anti-New Deal lawyer plus a New Deal lawyer will have settled it.

The New Deal lawyer, Donald Richberg, has left Washington "to argue a case in California," but actually will go to Mexico. The anti-New Deal lawyer, Pat Hurley, has already been there.

Here is the tentative formula for settlement which they have worked out:

1. Management of the oil properties will be returned to Standard, Sinclair, and other U. S. oil companies.
2. One-half the actual ownership also will be restored to the companies.
3. Mexico will retain the other half, on which she gives a mortgage to the companies. This mortgage is to be paid off periodically. In case of default, the companies may foreclose and regain title to this other half of the properties.
4. If and when the mortgage is retired, the Mexican government gains clear title to its half of the property, and the entire property will be operated jointly by Mexico and the oil companies.

These terms represent a retreat by both sides. The bitter-enders in the oil company councils have refused to discuss any terms, have insisted on full restoration, have hoped for—in some cases worked for—the collapse of the Cardenas government.

In Mexico meanwhile, the bloom has faded on the rose of expropriation. When the properties were taken over last March, there was great patriotic fervor. But lessened revenues and depreciated currency have dulled that enthusiasm.

Pat Hurley
Basic work on this formula was done by Pat Hurley, former Secretary of War, now counsel for Sinclair Oil. Hurley went to Mexico two months ago, and though the Mexican Government declared stoutly that he did not see Cardenas, he did see him, and the two men were mutually "sympathetic."

Cardenas, who is an Indian, was pleased to learn that Hurley likewise had Indian blood. Hurley also played up the fact that he, like Cardenas, was a soldier. They both talked directly, brusquely, shouted at each other, disagreed, agreed, exchanged an "embrazo," and parted as fast friends.

If an agreement between these two Spanish-speaking Indians could have solved the problem, it would have been solved on the spot. But Hurley could not speak for Standard Oil, whose Vice President, Major Thomas non-compromiser of these hopes for the overthrow of Cardenas.

So Richberg was brought into the picture to speak for Standard Oil.

NOTE—Behind the scenes, Roosevelt also played an important part in bringing the two sides closer together. Summoning the Mexican Ambassador, Roosevelt told him that Mexico was mistaken in thinking he was anti-oil companies, that each side should meet the other half way. Somehow, from the very first, he'd been different from the other boys, less cocky, kinder. One of the upper classmen had flippantly introduced him to Susie.

It wasn't love at first, rather a natural, human response to the one person who did not openly tease her, who did not make wisecracks at her expense, who treated her as an equal.

Susie was smart enough to know there was nothing personal in Dick's manner, that he shared his kindness with the cook in the fraternity house, the bootblack on the corner, and herself alike. But he warmed her, nevertheless, it gave color to her drab days.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. When you are called to the telephone, should you say "Thank you" to the one who calls you?
2. Should a wife make a habit of calling her husband during office hours?

3. If the company for which you work, disapproves of its employees having personal telephone calls, can you, without seeming rude, tell your friends this?

4. When you ask to speak to a business person on the telephone, should you give your name and business connection?

5. When you can leave a message for a busy executive, should you do so instead of demanding to speak to him?

What would you do if—
You are in a social gathering and one member of the group is called to the telephone which is in the same room—
(a) Stop talking until the telephone conversation is finished?
(b) Keep the conversation going, but in quiet tones?
(c) Go on talking, and don't lower your voice?

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
SUSIE LAMBERT—She served waffles and dreamed of being beautiful.
DICK TREMAINE—He liked Susie's waffles but he couldn't see Susie.
JEFF BOWMAN—His chief concern was to make Susie as beautiful as she wanted to be.

Yesterday, Susie says goodbye to Dick, giving him a present. Later, Dick sends flowers to her but they are not orchids.

CHAPTER III
Susie trudged home that night, the box of violets clutched to her breast. The flowers had been one of Dick's kindly gestures and she knew it, but such a beautiful gesture. To Susie, who had received so little from life, who asked so little, Dick's violets assumed the proportions of a major event.

Dreams wove their tremulous way across her mind, not dreams of conquest or future happiness, merely the dreams of elation inspired by a bunch of long-stemmed violets and Dick's sincere, "You know I've always been sorry, Susie." He had given her a precious little something to hug to her hungry heart, a moment of bliss to treasure through the empty days.

She climbed the stairs to her single room. Putting the violets in a blue glass bowl from the five and dime she touched them tenderly. With her eyes on the flowers she undressed, getting out of her clothes with a great sigh of relief. She was tired, her feet hurt, but her imprisoned soul throbbed with an exultant song.

Knowing that the sensation would soon vanish, that it would be followed by despair, she deliberately clung to the rapture, spreading it thin, tasting her small hour to the last delicious drop.

Over a clean cotton nightdress she pulled a kimono. Stepping into flat, rundown slippers, she dropped heavily to a chair before the flowers.

"He likes me," she whispered. "He's not only sorry—he likes me. He'll wear the tie clip and—and—" Suddenly she was weeping, distorted face buried in her arms. Her heavy shoulders shook, her limp hair sagged forward.

"Oh, God," she moaned, "it isn't fair. If you must make some of your women homely you should remember not to give them hearts. Why must I love like the pretty girls? It isn't fair—it isn't fair. Oh, God, I want to be beautiful!" After all, although Susie looked more than 30 she was scarcely 22, an unhappy girl who was given the urge to attract but who was denied the means of attraction.

RAISING her face, she gazed over the flowers into a mirror, lost herself for a moment in a desperately real dream of what it would be like to be really beautiful. Suddenly, the old, unhappy Susie was gone, and in her place was a new girl, sweetly pretty, the kind of a girl Susie wanted to be.

Susie was smart enough to know there was nothing personal in Dick's manner, that he shared his kindness with the cook in the fraternity house, the bootblack on the corner, and herself alike. But he warmed her, nevertheless, it gave color to her drab days.

And then, about a month after Dick's first visit to the shop, the incredible thing happened. Staring at the violets, lighted by a ray from a street lamp, Susie still felt a surge of excitement go through her, just remembering that day.

He had said, after silently eating his waffle, "Susie, did you know that I'm pledged to the Delta Phi?"

"Yes, I saw your name in the paper," she answered, glowing because he wanted her to know. "Well," he went on, not looking at her, "the fraternity is having a dance Saturday night at the house—and I'd like to have you go with me." At the time she thought how odd for a boy with such nice manners to be so shy. This was just a fleet thought under her stupefaction.

Susie had never in her life been asked for a date, the social activities of the chosen few belonged to a fascinating world far removed from her dull existence. Never, in her wildest dreams, had she seen herself as part of it. After stupefaction came unbelievable joy. With Dick's bashful invitation Susie's inferiority complex, developed through years of looking on, was replaced with a fearful confidence and assurance.

"You—you want me to go to the dance with you?" she stammered, still unbelieving.

Dick said, "Yes."

"BUT all the pretty girls, Dick—"

That was Susie, stepping aside from force of habit, half out of her mind with delirious hope and uncertainty.

"I'm asking you to go, Susie."

"Well—well—I'd love to go—I'd adore to go," her very wide mouth growing wider in a delighted smile, tiny pin points of light dancing between her lashes.

Dick had looked ashamed, somehow ashamed for her. She remembered this afterward.

Looking back Susie remembered how silly she had been all that week before the party, how she had chattered to the girls in the shop, her landlady, students in her night classes, how dizzily she had gone about preparations for the great event, how she had laughed and tossed her head and snappily answered the wisecracking customers and given them all two pats of butter.

Sitting there in the flowered kimono, reliving the unhappy past, Susie turned her eyes from Dick's violets. Burying her face in both hands she moaned, remembering.

Cloud of Gloom On Seabiscuit

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—(AP) The turf world awaited news today on the condition of Seabiscuit and whether the six-year-old handicapped king would ever race again.

The pride and joy of the Charles S. Howard string pulled up lame yesterday after running second today in a three-horse field that marked 'Biscuit's first appearance since he thrashed War Admiral back at Pimlico last November 1.

The injury threw a cloud of gloom over the Howard camp, where hopes have been high for a Seabiscuit triumph in the coming $100,000 Santa Anita handicap and the crowning of the noble son of hard tack as turfdom's all-time money winning monarch.

Dr. J. H. Peters, a veterinarian called in by Howard, diagnoses the injury as a soreness of the left knee but said it would take a while longer to find out how serious it was.

Yesterday's one mile race against Today, a 7-year-old horse bought a year ago by Neil McCarthy of Los Angeles from C. V. Whitney, and Tom Taggart's mare, Marica, was Seabiscuit's 85th trip to the post, and was to have been a tightener for the $100,000 race March 4.

Seabiscuit, winner of $340,490 and within $36,000 of surpassing the great Sun Beau's record, has been troubled with his legs off and on for years. The match race with War Admiral set for last spring at Belmont was called off on this account.

Tigers Bow To Clinton

Smith-Cotton Is Defeated 28-13 Tuesday Night

Coming from behind in the second quarter the Clinton Cardinals overwhelmingly defeated the Smith-Cotton Tigers 28-13 in a non-conference game before a roaring crowd at the high school last night at 8 o'clock.

Clinton avenged a defeat handed to them by the Tigers recently when they were beaten by a story book finish with Sanders making the winning goal as the gun sounded.

Improving as they went along the Cardinals were steadily clicking as the Tigers were unable to get a winning combination on the floor.

The Tigers were wild on their long shots and did not follow the ball in.

Scott was high scorer for the visitors with 9 points closely followed by Snyder with 8 points. Sanders was high for the Bengals with 5 points.

The starters for the Tigers were, Sanders and Patton, forwards. Meints, center, and Carver and Logan, guards.

Clarence Whiteman, of Warrensburg, was the referee.

Baseball Holdout Season Is On

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Looking at it from one angle, baseball's holdout season officially opens today.

According to custom, club owners claim no player is a holdout until he actually refuses to report at training camp or to sign a contract when he's there. The Brooklyn Dodgers began the season's first formal training today at Hot Springs with three players still unsigned.

Van Mungo, protesting a big salary cut, Forrest Pressnell and Babe Phelps were among the battersmen listed for preliminary training at Hot Springs before the Clearwater, Fla., camp opens. But they haven't signed yet, so they won't be received there unless they bring the documents along.

Lucadello To Browns' San Antonio Farm

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—(P)—Johnny Lucadello, infielder, has been sent to the Browns' San Antonio farm, Vice-President William O. DeWitt announced today. He came from the Johnston, Pa., club of the Middle Atlantic league, hitting .318 last season.

An X-ray machine is now used by tire dealers to determine the pressure of foreign material in tires. A recent test of 2000 used tires indicated the presence of 2049 nails and tacks, 2099 pieces of glass and 2197 pieces of rock and small stones.

Tyrone Power as Jesse James

Jesse James, the colorful outlaw whose name struck terror wherever it was heard, is portrayed by Tyrone Power in Darrell F. Zanuck's brilliant production, "Jesse James," 20th Century Fox Technicolor epic, coming Sunday to the Liberty Theatre. Also starred in the film are Henry Fonda, as Jesse's brother, Frank, Nancy Kelly in the role of Zee, wife of the famous outlaw, and Randolph Scott as Marshall Wright, who is bound by oath of office to hunt him.

VFW To Build Post Home

At a meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars a motion was carried to issue $1,000 in notes ranging from $1 to $10 for investment in a post home and recreational property.

A special committee of three trustees will have full control of the handling of finances of the home and recreational fund. This fund will be separate from the working fund.

The veterans also authorized a publicity committee to have weekly meetings beginning Friday, February 24 at the assembly room of the court house.

These meetings will be in the entertainment and instruction in matters for the welfare of the county and country at large, it was said.

Their representative to the round table council was asked to Vote On Road Commissioner

The term of David Thomson, Twelve Mile Road District commissioner, will expire next year instead of that of Earl Wingate, as was erroneously stated.

Dr. M. E. Gouge was re-elected a commissioner by the county court and city council Tuesday afternoon by a six to four vote, two council members, Walter Pinkepank and Elmer Sumners being absent.

Voting for Dr. Gouge were Judge J. K. Lacey, Jr., Mayor Julian H. Bagby and Aldermen H. R. Barman, Dr. F. M. Fulker-son, Atwell Bohling, and A. J. Knipp. For W. J. Imhauser votes were cast by Judges H. F. Fricke and Malcolm Scott, Aldermen Hugleman and Timbortious.

FAMOUS WESTERN SINGING STAR COMES TO SEDALIA AT THE UPTOWN THEATRE SUNDAY.

Bob Baker, star of Universal pictures, seen and heard with his Free Rangers on the stage.

Just about the time when a reviewer has made up its mind that there is nothing new and exciting to be expected from a motion picture dealing with the old "hell-roarin'" days of the West, along comes another young and handsome, hard-riding, straight-shooting, devil-may-care cowboy singing star to hootie you and put his brand on you forever.

It must be something in the blood that has descended to us from our pioneer ancestors, for no sooner does the old stage coach come over the hill and the guns begin to pop than young and old begin to think about quitting their job, grabbing a plane and settling down among the sage-brush where "men are men" and timeclocks do not exist.

Take this young Bob Baker lad, as a case in point, who sang, rode and fought his way into our hearts. He opens at the Uptown theatre on Sunday only in person with his own show

Large Crowd Attends Adams Implement Show

The annual farm implement show given by Elmer Adams, at his place of business, 401 West Main street, had attracted 1,200 visitors up to the noon hour today and many more were in attendance during the early afternoon.

Mr. Adams had on display his farm machinery, so attractive to users of such implements, and of interest to almost everyone. He also had various forms of entertainment, interspersing the continual showing of pictures with dances by Miss Lillian Hurley's revue members and other entertainment.

The pictures shown were: "Best Becomes Better," "Write Your Own Ticket," "Comedy and Animated Cartoon," "Experienced Talks," "Commander Gotta and His Jungle Yachts," "Beverton Consolidated Schools," "Party Line," "Beating Old Man Winter." At noon Mr. Adams served a free lunch and was assisted by a large number of friends who waited table and assisted in serving the hundreds of guests.

E. W. Lewis, of Kansas City, head of the sales promotion department for the International Harvesting Company, was present and assisted in the showing.

Today's Patterns

Here's a New Soft Version Of the Classic Shirtwaister

You'll get a real feeling of a new season, when you step forth in this variation on that classic and always popular fashion theme—the shirtwaister dress. Pattern 8187 has a certain softness to it, in obedience to the fashion rule that even tailored things have to have a feminine touch this coming season. The bodice is gathered beneath the shoulder yoke and slightly bloused at the waist, and the skirt has a hint of fullness. You can make it either with short, pleated sleeves or with long sleeves in the Gibson girl style that is coming back with a bang.

Make it up in silk print, flat crepe or thin wool, and wear your prettiest handkerchief in the patch pocket.

Pattern No. 8187 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 42, 44 and 46. Size 16 requires, with long sleeves, 4 1-8 yards of 39-inch material. With short sleeves, 4 1-8 yards of 39-inch material. Contrasting collar would take 3-8 yard.

The new SPRING and SUMMER PATTERN BOOK, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Spring and Summer Pattern Book—25 cents. Obituaries

Robert Ramsey

Robert Ramsey, aged 80 years, one of Sedalia's oldest and best known residents, died at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at his home, 1101 South Ohio avenue, following failing health of a lengthy period.

Mr. Ramsey was born September 4, 1858, in Delaware, being one of four sons of Washington and Sarah Ramsey. He and his three brothers came to Sedalia over fifty years ago, Mr. Ramsey being the last survivor in the family.

Mr. Ramsey led an active life up to a few years ago when he retired from a grocery business he had conducted at Eleventh street and Ohio avenue. His brothers, who preceded him in death, had also been engaged in business here, David Ramsey being an undertaker, James Ramsey a grocer and William Ramsey established the first department store in Sedalia, it being known as Ramsey's Racket and its location was Sixth street and Ohio avenue.

From 1888 to 1890 Robert Ramsey served as constable of Sedalia township and from 1891 to 1894, was a deputy sheriff. He also held other positions at various times in connection with law enforcement.

He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and several Masonic bodies, including Granite lodge No. 272, A. F. and A. M., of which he was past master; Sedalia chapter No. 18, Royal Arch Masons of which he was a past high priest; St. Omer Commandery No. 11, Knights Templar.

Mr. Ramsey was a man with numerous friends, especially among the older residents of Sedalia.

He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Miss Victory Ramsey, of the family home.

Funeral services will be held at the Gillespie Funeral home at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the Rev. A. W. Kokenodfer, pastor of the First Christian church, to officiate. Music for the services will be in charge of Charles Plumlee.

Pallbearers will be C. A. Smith, A. W. Rennicks, William Lane, J. W. Almaquist, Carson Meredith and James W. Settles.

The casket will not be open following the services and friends wishing to view the remains will call at the funeral home before the hour for the last rites.

Interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery with the Masonic ritualistic ceremonies.

Charles H. Houchen

Charles H. Houchen, 83 years old, pioneer resident of Pettis county, passed away at his home in Houstonia about midnight, Tuesday, February 14, following an illness of nearly a month.

Surviving him is his widow and twelve children.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church at Houstonia at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Complete arrangements have not been made.

Funeral of Mrs. Shearer

Funeral services for Mrs. Pearl Shearer, widow of the late William Harrison Shearer, who passed away Sunday afternoon, will be conducted at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the Gillespie Funeral home with the Reverend A. W. Kokenodfer, pastor of the First Christian church officiating. The body will be sent to Van Meter, Iowa, at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, where funeral services and burial will be held on Friday.

S. J. Cox

S. J. Cox, aged 82 years, died at 2 o'clock this afternoon at his home, three miles southwest of Sedalia, near Twenty-eighth street and Marshall avenue.

Mr. Cox was born and reared in Nodaway county, Mo., and had lived on the farm on which he passed away twenty-six years. Mrs. Cox died in 1921.

Mr. Cox leaves the following children: G. A. Cox residing at the home where the father passed away; J. H. Cox, Kennick, Wash.; J. C. Cox, Shoshoni, Wyo.; J. C. Cox, Versailles, Mo.; Miss Bertha Cox, Pharr, Texas. He also leaves one brother, A. N. Cox, Liberty, Mo., three sisters, Mrs. Emma Rice, Tremble, Mo.; Mrs. Elizabeth Kindred, Plattsburg, Mo., and Mrs. Cora Siders, Shreveport, La., ten grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Returns From Funeral

Mrs. Iva Hoffman, 52½ South Ohio avenue, has returned from near Ashland, Boone county, where she was called two weeks ago by the serious illness and death of her brother, J. F. Northway. Funeral services were held at the Mount Pleasant Baptist church, Monday afternoon. The Rev. H. S. Cheavens, of Ashland, a lifelong friend of the family, was in charge of the services.

Boys In Escape Sought

Two boys escaped from the Missouri Training school at Booneville according to a report received by the local police. The boys were said to be Lee C. McKellan, 16 years old, five feet one inch tall, weighing about 105 pounds and the other Robert Turner, 16 years old, five feet five inches tall and weighing about 105 pounds.

The boys were said to be from Springfield, Mo., and were being headed for their homes.

Nazis To Widen The Kiel Canal

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Nazi Germany's fuhrer acted today to give the reich a canal from the Baltic to the North Sea wider than Panama or Suez by the time her largest battleship, the Bismarck, is commissioned two years hence.

Chancellor Hitler's decision to have the historic Kiel canal widened to "make possible the parallel traffic of the largest types of ships" was seconded by a sweeping decree by Field Marshal Wilhelm Goering, director of the four-year plan, whereby every German inhabitant can be commanded for any job deemed necessary for the nation.

The decree empowered the federal labor office and its sub-departments throughout Germany to draft any worker who might be needed for tasks of importance to the nation's welfare.

The authoritative news service Dienst Aus Deutschland, said the widening of the canal was one of the projects which under the four-year plan were given preference. Thus it was considered evident that Goering's decree would be invoked to supply necessary labor power for finishing the canal in record time.

Under his decree, every inhabitant of Germany, foreigners excepted, may be drafted for whatever form of labor Goering, as dictator of the four-year plan for economic self-sufficiency, deems necessary.

Men or women holding jobs must be given leave of absence immediately by their employers when drafted.

Whittier P. T. A. To Meet On Friday

The Whittier Parent-Teachers' association will have its regular meeting February 17 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The program will be in observance of Founders' day. The past presidents will be honored guests. A play will be given by the Senior Dramatics class of Smith-Cotton high school. Mrs. C. E. Van Horn will give a talk on "The True Meaning of PTA."

Judgment Given of $100 In Suit

Judgement for $100 was given in the circuit court this morning by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman in the damage suit filed by Joseph E. Schupp against Mrs. Nellie Settles and A. M. Leftwich. The judgment and costs were paid in open court.

The suit is the result of an automobile collision between a car driven by Schupp and one owned by Judge Leftwich, in which Mrs. Leftwich and Mrs. Settles were riding. Mrs. Settles doing the driving.

Imredi Resigns Due Opposition

BUDAPEST, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Premier Bela Imredi resigned today because of parliamentary opposition to his sweeping proposals for regulating Jews and afterward started his party members by announcing he had discovered he himself was partly Jewish.

In a speech before colleagues of the party of national unity whom he had persuaded to adopt his anti-Jewish program—which envisages laws curtailing political rights of Jews, barring them from certain types of work and limiting their number in others—Imredi declared one of his great-grandparents was born a Jew.

"This fact, which only lately came to my attention, is one of the reasons why I felt myself obliged to retire as premier," said Imredi, who assumed the Hungarian premiership nine months ago, he had been accused of trying to introduce an authoritarian regime. Many legislators suspected he intended to abolish parliament or greatly reduce its powers.

"I held, and still hold, the legislation for the regulation of Jewish participation in economic and cultural affairs of the country is a good thing for our fatherland," he said in a tired voice at a party meeting in the parliament building. A conference lasting most of the night preceded his resignation. Parliament was scheduled to consider his anti-Jewish proposals today.

Under the terms of the proposed anti-Jewish laws, which provide exemptions for many persons of mixed blood, Imredi would not be considered Jewish, but he told his party colleagues "it is inconsistent that under such circumstances I should be identified with such legislation."

Twenty Years To Bank Robber

BOLIVAR, Mo., Feb. 15.—(AP) Carlton Holthouse, 26, of near Huntsville, Mo., pleaded guilty in circuit court here today to robbing the Bank of Humansville of $1600 last December 27, and was sentenced to 20 years in the state penitentiary.

Bicycle Safety Program

One Is Killed In Damascus Riot

DAMASCUS, Syria, Feb. 15.—(AP)—One person was reported killed today and at least 70 injured in a new outbreak of rioting at Homs against the government for its pro-French policy.

The rioters demanded resignation of the government because it continued cooperation with the French high commissioner despite French refusal to ratify the 1936 treaty for Syrian independence.

Homs is 100 miles north of Damascus.

At the same time it was disclosed the government had sent a note to France demanding immediate execution of the treaty and transfer of governmental functions to Syrian control.

The government note, however, expressed continued friendship for France. Syrian nationalists interpreted this as a new sign of weakness.

Plane Sales To France Mount In New Orders

naval aviation authorization bill and then approved the measure authorizing $68,400,000 for new and expanded aviation bases.

Gifford declared that the current defense program was "undermining" the neutrality act designed to keep this country out of war.

Rep. Pace (D-Ga.) a member of the house military committee told the house he thought it was sound to aid England and France build up their defenses because if those democracies fell before the dictatorships a major bulwark of the United States would be removed.

"Isn't it better to sell England and France planes for their defense?" he asked, "than to go to war with a big power to prevent encroachment on this hemisphere?"

Expressing his personal belief Hitler is ready to "strike" to regain colonies lost in the world war. Pace asserted the reichsfuhrer was delaying his next move only to "complete his submarines to handle the British navy" and because of "fear of the United States."

Discussing the possibility of a German victory over France and Britain, Pace said the United States should not forget that such a victory might mean the cession to Germany of the Isle of Bermuda, not far from the United States shore and now owned by Britain.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—New French contracts for 415 war planes increased to more than 1,200 today the number of military aircraft France and Great Britain have ordered from American manufacturers in eight months.

The French embassy announced the additional orders last night on the eve of reopening of the senate military committee's inquiry into an earlier transaction. The committee called Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, to testify today and asked Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, to be present.

Senator Clark (D-Mo) raised the question of whether any of the new order involved planes similar to the army craft wrecked recently in California.

The presence of an official of the French air mission aboard that plane started the senate investigation and touched off a congressional controversy over helping European democracies rearm.

Some authoritative sources said 100 Douglas bombers in the new orders were of the type involved in the crash.

Col. Rene P. G. Weiser, air attaché at the French embassy, declared no military secrets were disclosed to the mission.

"Everywhere we went we were very carefully guided away from shops where new work was under way," Weiser said. "We saw only what we were sold."

Meanwhile, the administration proposal to add 3,032 planes to the army air corps rolled toward virtually certain house approval in an atmosphere of unanimity reminiscent of early new deal days.

The new French orders were distributed among three manufacturers. In addition to the Douglas ships, the contracts were for 115 Martin and 200 North American bombers.

The latest purchases, which include engines and other equipment, involve more than $60,000,000. France last month doubled an order for 100 fast Curtiss-Wright ships placed last summer. Great Britain recently contracted for 250 American made aircraft in addition to 400 ordered last year.

The total of all the contracts, by authoritative estimates, considerably exceeds $100,000,000 and approaches the entire value of the output of the American aircraft industry last year.

Mr. Roosevelt's recent disclosure that the French purchases were welcome left no doubt they had full administration approval.

Fresh Appeal On Employment

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—American Federation of Labor leaders, ending their mid-winter study of labor affairs, placed before the Roosevelt administration today a fresh appeal for co-operation with business in solving the unemployment problem.

The federation's executive council in a three-page declaration written especially for Secretary of Commerce Hopkins and Secretary of Labor Perkins, urged the government to remove whatever barriers stand in the path of business expansion and let private industry absorb the unemployed.

"Fear, a lack of confidence and distrust in governmental, social and economic procedure should be removed," the council said.

"A political and economic state of mind should be created which would enable all financiers and the owners and management of industry to face the future with confidence. x x

"Whatever barriers may have been created, either as a result of fear or as a result of affirmative action on the part of those who administer the affairs of government, ought to be broken down so that our industrial processes may function in a proper way and unemployment may be thus overcome."

Great Britain For Heavier Armaments

iterranean worries at a critical stage in the Spanish war.

The prime minister announced that Britain had ceased to sponsor any terms for ending the Spanish conflict. He said his government had made mediation efforts after the fall of Barcelona, but that it did not "consider it advisable at present to take the responsibility of sponsoring any particular terms of settlement."

He mentioned both Italy's undertaking to get out of Spain at the end of the war and Adolf Hitler's promise at the Munich conference to "withdraw German volunteers whenever other countries were prepared to do the same."

Pressed by Lieutenant-Commander R. T. H. Fletcher, labor member, to say whether he regarded Hitler's assurance as formal and binding, the premier cautiously replied:

"I regard it as an expression of his intention at the time he spoke to me."

Under the British-Italian accord which went into effect last Nov. 16 Italy had reduced by half her strength in Libya, which faces French Tunisia, an object of Fascist expansion clamor.

Officials said the Earl of Perth, British ambassador to Rome, had been told by Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano that additional Italian troops were being sent to Libya because of "information received" that French forces in Tunisia had been increased. Ciano was said to have added that Italy would reduce her Libyan Garrison when conditions were restored "to normal."

Officials declined to disclose the number of Italians sent to North Africa, but reliable reports said forces there now numbered 60,000 as against 30,000 maintained under the British-Italian accord.

An Earmarking Bill Presented

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The senate today moved to safeguard school funds against a proposed constitutional amendment which would permit the legislature to earmark any state tax for old age pensions.

Sen. William M. Quinn (D) Maywood, voluntarily postponed a vote on his earmarking proposal after the senators adopted an amendment by Sen. Francis Smith (D) St. Joseph, which would protect school appropriations from Quinn's plan.

Schools receive one fourth of all general revenue under the state constitution, although it has been the practice for years to award them a third of all general tax money. Quinn's proposal could deprive the schools of their constitutional quarter of the funds which would be earmarked for pensions.

The senate buried by a 23 to 10 vote a bill by its floor leader, Sen. Frank Briggs (D), Macon, which would have banned trucks from public highways between the hours of 7 A. M. and 7 P. M. on Sundays and holidays. It was offered by Briggs as a "highway safety" reform.

The measure, denounced by Sen. M. E. Casey (D), Kansas City, as "one of the worst bills introduced in this body," was doomed when the senate laughingly adopted an amendment by Sen. James McDonald (D), Charleston, which would have included railroads in the Sunday ban.

"I admit this amendment is a joke," said McDowell, "but it's no more of a joke than the bill itself."

Opponents stressed the handicap such a measure would place on farmers moving livestock to Monday morning markets.

Proposed Rule To Be Up Again

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The House today wiped out the record of a hectic roll call which some members charged delivered a slap to Gov. Lloyd C. Stark by a disputed one-vote margin.

On motion of Rep. John D. Taylor (D) Keytesville, yesterday's roll call on a motion to reverse the House stands on an appropriations committee rule was expurgated and the question set for special consideration tomorrow.

The new rule—once rejected by the House after opponents had denounced it as an attempt to "embarrass" the governor—was adopted by one vote yesterday.

Almost immediately Rep. Suggest L. Edwards (D), Mexico, claimed he had been "misinformed" into voting "aye."

"I certainly am not in favor of anything to hamstring the governor," he protested.

Today Rep. A. H. Steinbeck

(R) Franklin, claimed he had been recorded as "absent" when he actually voted "no." That change would have resulted in a tie, automatically killing the new rule.

Taylor moved to expurge the record today "in a spirit of fairness" to Edwards and Steinbeck. The proposed rule will be called again tomorrow for a new roll call.

Invitation To Garden Club

The Kansas City Garden association invites the Sedalia Garden club to attend an illustrated lecture on "Rock Gardens and Alpine Plants" by Mrs. Edith H. Banghart of Medina, Wash., Friday, Feb. 17, 1939, at 8 p. m., at the assembly hall, University of Kansas City, 52nd and Rockhill Road. A small admission will be charged. If any Sedalia members plan to attend, call Mrs. C. L. Carter, 1883, at once as the order for tickets will have to be made by telephone.

Holdup At A Beach Hotel

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15.—(AP)—A carefully planned holdup of the Blackstone Hotel early today netted five bandits a six-figure plunder of cash and jewels from office safe deposit boxes.

Insurance adjusters, questioning some 200 guests as to their losses, declined to make a statement until the check was completed. Police Chief H. V. Yocum said he could not yet tell whether the loot would amount to $5,000 to $500,000.

One guest, Mrs. Antonia Marko, New York, told detectives John McCarter and John Selby her loss amounted to $75,000, represented by four diamonds and emerald bracelets, three diamond rings, a $25,000 pearl necklace and $2,000 cash. She said she placed the valuables in the box last night, but displayed other jewels she said were worth $40,000 she had taken to her room.

Dave Greenblatt, head porter, told of losing $3,500 worth of gems and cash representing his life savings. Mrs. Morris Millinet of East Orange, N. J. said she had a $600 bingo prize in one of the rifled boxes and Mrs. Anna Blumenthal of Portland, Ore., said she reported the theft of a bracelet and brooch worth $2,500.

Secondary Bills Be To The Fore

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Administration leaders in the House have decided to withhold controversial legislation until they can gauge the effect of their appeal for Democratic solidarity.

Well-informed persons said today the House would be asked to consider no subjects more troublesome than increased funds for the army, routine appropriations, and secondary bills for several weeks.

Any proposals to revise the Wagner Labor Act and other New Deal laws will be deferred, it was learned, until Democratic chieftains are assured colleagues are meeting their request to "go down the line" with them.

While the House sought to pass the defense bill by nightfall, the Senate was in recess. During the six and a half weeks of the session, the Senate has met only 21 times for a total of about 61 hours.

Under old rules the Senate must meet once every three days, and that is exactly the record for the last three weeks.

Leaders explain there is no legislation ready. Some senators, including Nye (R-ND), have declared the infrequent sessions were an attempt to shut off debate on foreign affairs and other controversial subjects.

Veterans foresee a lengthy session because of the apparent slow start. Republican leader McNary of Oregon, half in jest, suggests Congress may be in session until Thanksgiving.

Sedalia Girls In Convention

Mary Catherine Donahoe, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Donahoe, of Spring Fork, and the president of the Kansas State Sodality Union, was general chairman of the mid-year convention of the Leavenworth Diocesan Council of the K. S. S. U. held in Topeka, Saturday, February 12.

Nearly one thousand students, colleges and schools of nursing throughout the diocese, were the guests of the Topeka Catholic high school for this meet. Miss Virginia Waddell and Miss Jane McNairy, both of Sedalia, were delegates from the Saint Mary College, Leavenworth.

Preceding the regular business of the convention, the advisory board met at the Catholic high school with Miss Donahoe, president of the Leavenworth Council, in charge of the meeting.

The Rt. Rev. Paul C. Shulte, bishop of Leavenworth, officially opened the activities of the day at 9 a. m. when he was the celebrant of a mass at the church of the Assumption. The Rev. E. J. Weisenberg, S. J., state adviser of the union, led the morning discussion, following the welcome to the delegates by Msgr. Patrick J. McInerney, pastor of the Church of the Assumption. The general theme of discussion was "Twenty-four Hours With Christ" and the subject considered was a Sodalist's day, his spiritual life, his school life, his home life, his apostolic life, his parish life, his recreation life, and his civic life. Miss Donahoe presided at the session.

The afternoon meeting began at 1:30 o'clock. In Bishop Shulte's address to the convention, he grouped the topics discussed in the morning under one head and gave his views on the subjects. He expressed appreciation for the interest and cooperation given by the Sodalists to the Fraternity of Christian Doctrine, a Catholic organization. In telling of the Sodalist's day, Bishop Shulte said that topics under discussion should be carried out in the modern way, rather than the way done before.

Following Bishop Shulte's talk, a group of the college students presented a symposium entitled "That's Christian Marriage."

A social hour and a reception in the women's club rooms closed the convention.

Chicken and Rice Loaf

One and one-half cups chopped chicken, 1 cup cooked rice, 2 tablespoons parsley chopped, 1 teaspoon salt, cayenne, pepper, 1/4 teaspoon mace, 1 egg.

Mix chicken, rice, parsley, salt, mace and dish of pepper and cayenne. Add egg and mix again. Put into greased loaf tin and bake 40 minutes in moderate oven (375 degrees F.)

Serve hot with a curry sauce.

Curry Sauce

Three tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon curry powder, 1 1/2 cups chicken broth or gravy, 1/2 cup milk.

Melt butter in skillet, add finely chopped onion and cook for 5 minutes. Add flour and curry and chicken broth or gravy, cook until thickened and add milk. If gravy is used, omit 2 tablespoons of flour.

Menu

BREAKFAST: Pineapple and grapefruit juice, dry cereal, creamed dried beef on toast, raisin toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Casserole of baked lima beans and tomatoes, hard rolls, canned peaches, sugar cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, ham and spinach casserole, cheese sauce, steamed brown rice, sweet and sour beets, steamed cherry pudding, cherry sauce, coffee, milk.

Fudge Frosting

Eight tablespoons cream, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 square (1 ounce) chocolate cut in pieces, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon butter 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Combine cream, sugar, chocolate and egg yolk. Stir thoroughly to dissolve sugar.

With a damp cloth wipe away any sugar crystals which appear on the sides of the saucepan. Cook very slowly to 232 F., or until a soft ball stage is reached. Add butter and vanilla. Cool to lukewarm or 110 F. Beat until thick enough to spread.

Menu

Breakfast—Grapefruit juice, cooked cereal, cinnamon buns, coffee, milk.

Luncheon—Tomato juice, bacon omelet, rolls, steamed apricots, Dutch almond cookies, tea, milk.

Dinner—Sliced cold roast, hot brown gravy, mashed potatoes, green beans, romaine salad, old fashioned black chocolate cake, coffee, milk.

In Denmark, each egg sold has stamped upon it the date on which it was laid, the number of the farmer selling it, and the number of the co-operative society to which the farmer belongs.

The Italians were first to use forks for eating purposes. The implement was introduced for eating fruits and other foods that might stain the fingers, although two-tined forks for steaming meats while carving were in use long before forks for eating.

Santa Fe

for WARM DAYS IN THE WINTER VACATION LAND OF THE SOUTHWEST and CALIFORNIA

Again comes that jolly planning time for those who can leave dreary winter cold behind and enjoy the mellow-warmth of Southern Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

There is an extra reason for a California trip in 1939—the great Golden Gate International Exposition opening February 18th on beautiful Treasure Island in the middle of San Francisco Bay. The Exposition may be fitted easily and economically into your Santa Fe itinerary.

These places are not difficult to reach. Santa Fe's fleet of fine trains presents exceptionally swift and comfortable service for luxury and economy travel alike.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughey Johnston motored to Fayette Sunday to visit their son Hughey Johnston, Jr., who had been ill but has recovered.

Mrs. J. A. Comer was hostess to the O. E. W. sewing club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. L. J. Jennings was enjoyably surprised last Wednesday evening when a number of neighbors and friends came to her home to spend the evening and help celebrate her 81st birthday. An evening of Chinese checkers and cards was enjoyed followed by refreshments of pie and coffee. Those present besides the honor guest were: Mesdames and Messrs. C. A. Jennings, Roy Douglas, S. G. Williams, Jim Carter, Will Simpson, Misses Mary Gorrell, Lena Wiley, Mattie Hall and Mrs. Geo. Gehrig.

Raymond Bunnell and Mrs. Margaret Davis were married Thursday morning at the home of Rev. Riley, Mrs. S. Goodrich, Mrs. J. R. Ferguson, sisters of the bride and Mrs. J. T. Scrogam her mother were present. They returned Sunday from a trip to Little Rock, Ark. The newly weds will reside on the Robert Burcham farm south of town.

The Star Bridge club met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. B. B. Bowman.

Mrs. Lelia Phillips left Saturday evening for St. Louis where she will remain about a month before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Webb and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wells were Sedalia visitors Sunday afternoon.

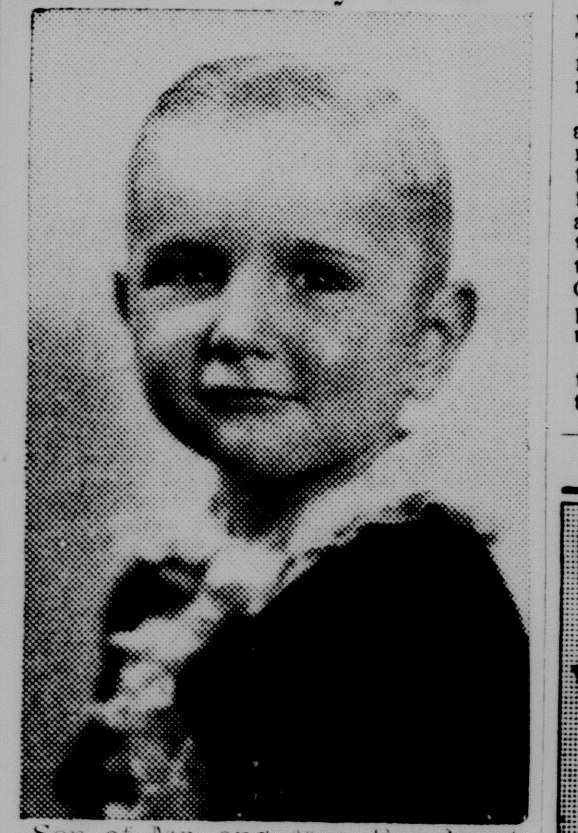

The Study Club met with Mrs. Harvey M. Wall Monday afternoon. Mrs. Tera Kidwell, president of the club presided during the business meeting when the following officers were elected: Mrs. Carolyn Milam, president, Mrs. L. T. Hoback, vice-president, Mrs. R. H. Wells, secretary, Mrs. Irma Lee Rusk, treasurer. Mrs. L. T. Hoback had the lesson on poetry by these modern poets Edwin Markham, Sara Teasdale, and Edna St. Vincent Millay.

Alf Silver caught his right hand in his pressing machine while at work in his cleaning shop Friday afternoon. The machine locked on his hand and caused a painful burn, bruising him considerably. It was necessary for him to have help in dislodging his hand. It was about 10 years ago that he received severe burns to his hands and arms while attempting to save his wife whose clothing had caught fire.

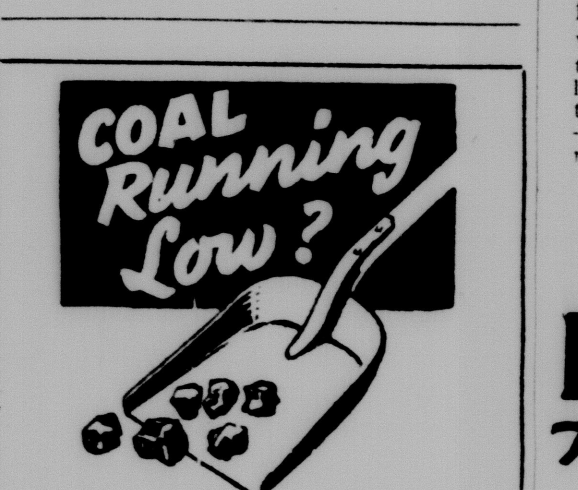

The fire department was called to the Earl Breece home Monday afternoon where a barn, containing hay, was afire. The barn was destroyed and a garage on the S. P. Priestley property next door was badly damaged when the flames spread to it. Quick work by the fire "laddies" held the fire from spreading any farther.

Take Calotabs to Help Nature Throw off Colds

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of any virus-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which may be needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package.—(adv.)
